91 STUDENTS HAVE GRADUATED
OF WHOM 50% ARE FIRST GENERATION LITERATES!

Graduates - 48 girls & 22 boys
Post-Graduates - 21 boys

We wish each & every student all the very best in his/her life ahead!

An investment of selfless love & service reflected in the untiring efforts of the last 8-10 years brought to fruition on the momentous day of the first convocation of Sri Sathya Sai University for Human Excellence.

Our first batch of graduates & post-graduates received their degrees on the 13th of July 2022, and we thank each and every patron, well-wisher & donor who believed in us and our education model; supporting and helping us in all possible ways.

We were honoured to host Dr. Mohan Ji Bhagwat, Sarsanghchalak of the Rashtriya Swayamsevak Sangh (RSS) as our Chief Guest, and are humbled that he acceded to our request and delivered the First Convocation Address to our students. It is noteworthy that most of the graduating students are first-generation literates from economically downtrodden rural backgrounds who have benefited immensely from the impact of our holistic education model and today, they are empowered and molded to think beyond themselves, for the greater good of society.

3. GLOBAL CONFERENCE ON VEDIC IDEAS FOR A BETTER SOCIETY

The two - day conference on 'Vedic ideas for a better society' had a panel of experts and academicians in the field of Vedic sciences and research assemble and deliberate on those vedic thoughts that have gone unnoticed and relating it to the contemporary needs of the society.

02. E1E1 At 'Sing For KK' Tribute Concert

We were deeply honoured to have Kunal Ganjawala - an ardent supporter of the Each One Educate One Foundation; along with the Bhartiya Mall of Bengaluru and Alive India Music Foundation, associating with our cause through the 'Sing for KK Tribute Concert' on 10th September 2022, in memory and honor of the Late Krishna Kumar Kunnath.

It was a fantastic tribute and celebration of the musical genius and legend that KK truly was and will always be! With KK's family being there and the performances of KK's upcoming young ones, Tamara & Nakul only added to the spirit & the nostalgia of the occasion. The musical extravaganza not only relived KK's music & memories but also kept up the spirit of kindness by dedicating the proceeds to support NGOs like ours.

Thank you, Bhartiya Mall – Bengaluru, Ashwinder, Raghunandan, Alive India Music Foundation, Kunal Ganjawala, Zubeen Garg, Supratiek Shyamal Ghosh, Mehboob Saab, Nakul, Tamara, and the Legendary Band of KK for supporting our cause.

SAI SPOORTHI 2022

ANNUAL ALUMNI MEET &
EACH ONE EDUCATE ONE FOUNDATION'S
ANNUAL DAY CELEBRATIONS

Sunday 09 October, 2022 | Sathya Sai Grama, Muddenahalli

Sai Spoorthi marks the coming together every year of the Alumni of Sri Sathya Sai Institutions, to celebrate their association with the Alma Mater and to rededicate themselves to the cause of holistic, values-based education by "Paying it Forward" to their younger sisters and brothers studying in these institutions.

Five years back, in Oct 2017, this noble & gratifying spirit of "Paying it Forward" found its formal and collective expression in the establishment of the Each One Educate One Foundation - a For-Impact movement spearheaded by the Alumni, to spread the cause of holistic, values-based education for the rural unserved & underserved across the state and eventually the entire country.

Today, the Each One Educate One Foundation enables the education of over 3000 students from Grade 6 all the way to the University every single year, in three states of South India, with students from diverse rural underprivileged backgrounds across the country finding their way into this redeeming and empowering modern Gurukulam-style education ecosystem.

Over the years, this initiative has enabled the education of over 15000 students. This has been made possible with the support of the alumni, like-minded & noble individuals from different walks of life, and trans-national corporates from across India.

Marking this momentous milestone of its completion of five remarkable years of learning, caring, sharing and giving, the Foundation celebrated its Annual Day, on 9th Oct, 2022, in the auspicious and gracious presence of Sadguru Sri Madhusudan Sai. It was a landmark occasion for the E1E1 family with alumni, patrons, champions & CSR partners being recognised and felicitated for their commitment and participation in the empowering cause of Education for the underserved in rural India.

GURU VANDANA

As per the tradition over the years, 'Guru Vandana' was organized wherein the alumni pay respects and offer gratitude to two of the noble teachers who have and continue to render outstanding service in different capacities, at our various educational institutions. Their lives have been a saga of simplicity and surrender, dedicated to the sacred profession of teaching. Besides academic learning, they impart life's lessons based on human values, thereby molding and shaping the lives of generations of students.

Alumni Speakers Morning Session

Being an alumnus of this institution is not only a privilege but also a responsibility. I was working in the corporate sector before I joined here a year ago. It is definitely possible to balance our work life and service life. I remember how I used to get up early in the morning at 5am, drive from Bangalore to the institution and teach my younger brothers Tabala for an hour and then get back to work. The satisfaction one derives when the small children approaches with lots of enthusiasm to seek guidance is beyond words. Perfection is the way of life for the students of this institution and I feel really blessed to have received this opportunity.

I felt very much connected to the Each One Educate One cause. With my inner urge to engage in something beyond my duty, thus finding the true purpose of my life, this was very much gratifying. I started by contributing to the education of three kids and thereafter as a next step decided to seek support for those underprivileged children studying in our institutions, who otherwise would have been deprived of education. Soon, this became the centre point of my life. As I overcame my fear and inhibition, spoke to my friends and other like-minded individuals about the E1E1 program, many people from nowhere approached me to extend their support. It gives me immense satisfaction and happiness as I involve in this selfless and humbling cause.

Alumni Speakers Evening Session

I come from a humble, lower middle-class family of 3 girl children. My father works as a labourer in a gas agency and my mother is a home maker. After my PUC, though I wanted to continue my education, I wasn't able to do so because of the financial condition of my family. It was during this time the Each One Educate One initiative helped me to continue my education, for which I am forever grateful. Our university aims at nurturing holistic personality through spiritual knowledge and secular knowledge. These two being the important pillars of our education system, gives us the right attitude to lead a balanced life. By the time we graduate from the university we are equipped with all kind of knowledge and also filled with enthusiasm to serve the nation with the right attitude. Many of my friends who were with me in my PUC were unable to afford education and are married off. I can proudly say that I am the first graduate in my family and I am also able to financially support my family through the stipend I receive during my internship. The internship program is a practical hands-on training in areas of teaching, management, accounting and administration which empowers us physically, mentally and emotionally.

I feel very much content as I go to sleep every night and wake up every morning as I know I am helping one child at a time to bring him out of the clutches of poverty, empowering his family as well. It gives me immense joy and contentment. Today we have this responsibility to take up the noble cause of building the nation - one child at a time. When we serve a higher cause, be assured that all our needs will be looked after. Today I am serving in Gulbarga campus and in this campus alone there are 11 alumni who have joined back to serve the institution.

05. Inspiration From Down Under : Ms Meera Mehra

In this issue of our newsletter celebrating Azadi Ka Amrit Mahotsav, commemorating 75 years of India's independence and the glorious history of its people, culture and achievements, we are proud to feature a true patriot from Australia - our E1E1 champion Ms Meera Mehra. Ms. Meera Mehra's dedication to the cause of under served children in rural India is exemplary, and demonstrates how even an individual residing thousands of miles away can still be an effective agent for change back home.

Ms Meera Mehra is a proud alumna of the Sri Sathya Sai Institute of Higher Learning, Anantapur campus, which was the very first higher education institution founded by Bhagawan Sri Sathya Sai Baba, way back in 1968, exclusively for women. "The level of education among women decides whether a country will prosper or decline", is what Bhagawan Baba had proclaimed at the inauguration of this institution by the then Honorable President of India, Sri V V Giri, more than 5 decades ago; in an age and time when there was hardly any media coverage or public discourse on girl child education and women's empowerment! Ms. Meera Mehra who hails from Allahabad joined this institution in 1976 for her intermediate and finished her Bachelors in Science in 1981.

The free-of-cost education (a hallmark of Bhagawan Baba's educational mission (well before the RTE Act was passed in 2008) that young Meera received, instilled human values in her that have become an integral part of her life since then, demonstrating how this unique approach towards holistic education and integral development can bring about a lasting transformation in an individual. She recalls that within the college environment, she learnt how important it was to appreciate the existence of different cultures, languages, and beliefs – acknowledging and respecting mutual coexistence, as students from all backgrounds, castes, regions, religions, and social strata lived together in harmony.

According to Ms Mehra, the education she received at the institute forms the basis of her leading a purposeful life today, engaged in serving and enabling the next generation to carry on the legacy of this holistic model of education. As an active volunteer of the Each One Educate One Foundation, she doesn't just stop with her personal generosity to invest in the education and bright future of the next generation. She goes well beyond her own comfort zone, and strives hard to not just spread the word, but actually garner more and more support for the education of rural under served children studying in our campuses, through her network of friends, relatives and like-minded individuals in the local community there and back home in India. This, despite having moved to Melbourne decades ago and settling down with family over there. With her continuing efforts, leadership and passion, she has helped make a significant difference in the lives of underserved children in Rural India, drawing immense satisfaction and a sense of higher fulfillment that nothing else can offer her, she affirms.

In her own words, "Educating children from underprivileged, and marginalised sections of the society is a cause very close to my heart and hence, I decided to give it my very best shot in terms of my time and efforts, and the capacity that I have been blessed with and am grateful for. I have this strong conviction that every individual has a definite role to play towards the community and the motherland, by setting an example through one's own actions in life no matter where or how one is. I find great fulfillment in ensuring that the transformative education I was fortunate to receive, reaches many more needy and under served rural children, empowering them to lead lives of dignity and becoming instruments of change themselves."

06. Donor Testimonial

“ In the current era where education is commercialized, this is the Institution which provides education that nurtures children to be kind, loving and compassionate. Being instilled with great human values, these children are getting trained to become high-end professionals who are being equipped to bring about a significant change in the society.

The children of Sri Sathya Sai Sathaniketanam, Hassan campus, carry the lantern of spiritual and secular education hand in hand, and are capable of spreading the fragrance of love to everyone around them.

I was immensely inspired to see the children getting trained in extra-curricular activities such as arts & sports on par with academics and most importantly, values-based education which will guide them on the path of righteousness.. ”
