Know Your Mission

E1E1 Foundation Showcases its Transformative Model at the World Cultural Festival

As part of the World Cultural Festival, the “Know Your Mission” segment served as an inspiring showcase of impactful interventions across the verticals of Nutrition, Education, and Healthcare. Each department presented its mission, milestones, and the far-reaching social transformation being brought about through the collective efforts.

Representing the Education vertical, Mr. Sunil Narang, Trustee, Each One Educate One Foundation, presented an insightful overview of the Foundation’s journey and impact under the theme “Empowering Rural India Through Education.” The presentation captured the Foundation’s vision of a world where every child has access to free, quality, values-based, holistic education - a right, not a privilege.

The session elaborated on the Foundation’s end-to-end educational model, spanning from school to university, with a dedicated focus on rural and underserved communities through a residential, values-based, and completely free education system. It further highlighted the Foundation’s scholarship programs - Each One Educate One, Each One Higher Educate One, and Each One Medical Educate One - which ensure continuity in learning and holistic empowerment throughout a student’s educational journey.

Drawing from the presentation, Mr. Sunil Narang emphasized how this model bridges the rural literacy divide, enhances capacity building, and nurtures socially responsible citizens who are ready to serve rural communities. The presentation also underscored the remarkable growth trajectory of the Foundation over the past eight years, and its deep commitment to transforming lives through values-based education inspired by the vision of our Revered Founder Sri Madhusudan Sai.

An Ode to the Divine Feminine Celebrating the Glory of Navaratri

The auspicious festival of Dussehra was celebrated with great devotion and grandeur at Sathya Sai Grama, Muddenahalli, from September 22 to October 2, 2025. The eleven-day celebrations were marked by an atmosphere of deep spiritual fervour and devotion, with students, staff and patrons participating in daily sacred rituals, and discourses that highlighted the divine significance of Navaratri.

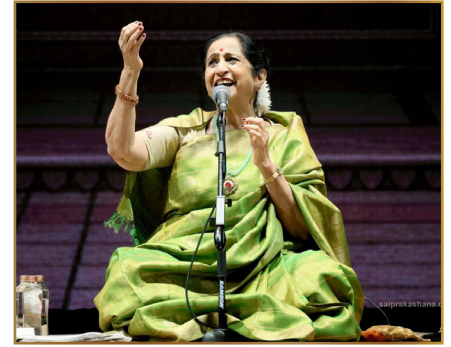

The celebrations encompassed the Athi Rudra Maha Yajna, Navaratri Homa, and Durga Puja, performed for universal peace, harmony, and the welfare of all beings. The Durga Puja, featuring traditional clay idols from Kumartoli, Kolkata, and the rhythmic beats of Bengal's Dhakis, added a rich cultural and devotional dimension to the celebrations.

This iconic festival, recognised by UNESCO as an Intangible Cultural Heritage of Humanity, highlights its vibrant blend of religious devotion, artistic expression, and community participation.

A major highlight of the festival was the series of cultural programmes at Sri Sathya Sai Premamrutham, featuring distinguished artists who offered their art as an expression of devotion.

The celebrations culminated on Vijaya Dashami, symbolising the triumph of good over evil and the reaffirmation of one's resolve to lead a life guided by dharma and selfless service.

Igniting Young Minds through Inquiry

Prashanthi Balamandira Trust partners with Scikraft to transform Science Education at SSSLSG Institutions

The Sri Sathya Sai Loka Seva Gurukulam Institutions operate on the principle of values-based, holistic education, aiming to unlock the highest potential in every child. While our Gurukulam model nurtures students in rural and underserved communities with free education, nutrition and holistic development, we also constantly seek innovative ways to enhance academic excellence.

To this end, we are delighted to announce our partnership with Scikraft, a Bengaluru-based educational services organization committed to redefining the way Science is taught in classrooms. Together, we are bringing Xperimentor, Scikraft's flagship offering, into the classrooms of Grades 6 to 8 at Sri Sathya Sai Loka Seva Gurukulam (SSSLSG) institutions, beginning with a pilot at Karwar and Chikkaballapura Campuses.

About Xperimentor: Bringing the Lab into the Classroom

In most conventional classrooms, Science is often reduced to theory, memorisation and textbook-based learning. Scikraft challenges this status quo through Xperimentor - a carefully designed classroom solution that enables students to learn by doing.

Aligned with school curricula for Grades 6 to 10, the Xperimentor program includes:

- A comprehensive resource kit containing reusable and consumable materials for hands-on group activities and teacher-led demonstrations
- A workbook for each student, allowing them to engage with structured quests and exercises
- The Xperimentor app, which offers a library of curriculum-aligned topics, bite-sized learning quests, and built-in assessments

Everything a student or teacher needs to explore Science concepts is made available, within the classroom itself, avoiding the necessity to go to a separate Science Lab.

Training the Teachers, Empowering the Learners

A comprehensive induction and training program equips educators with the principles of inquiry-based learning and guides them in effectively integrating the tools and resources into their lesson plans.

Teachers engage in hands-on sessions using the new methodology, enabling a smooth transition from conventional instruction to facilitating experiential learning. With ongoing support and access to physical and digital resources, they confidently lead interactive and engaging Science classes.

Early Impact: A New Joy in Learning

The impact of the Xperimentor pilot has been immediate and inspiring:

- Teachers at both campuses are now comfortable in using Xperimentor to make Science lessons interactive and engaging.
- Students are showing a newfound enthusiasm for Science. They actively participate in hands-on experiments, collaborate in small groups, and take ownership of their learning.

- Peer learning and curiosity have increased, with students often helping one another and showing eagerness to attempt Quizzes and Assessments on the app.

This marks a paradigm shift in the learning environment from passive absorption to active exploration.

A Shared Vision: Building the Next Generation of Innovators

Through Xperimentor, we hope to remove the fear often associated with Science and instead cultivate a spirit of inquiry, discovery, and innovation. By making classrooms vibrant hubs of experimentation, we aim to inspire students from rural and under-resourced backgrounds to pursue careers in STEM fields that have long felt out of reach for them.

We envision scaling this program across all SSSLG campuses. The Each One Educate One Foundation extends its heartfelt gratitude to BNB Security & Automation Solutions for their support in implementing the Scikraft program at Sattwaniketanam, Karwar, and Sri Sathya Sai Prashanthi Balamandira, Chikkaballapura Campuses.

Inauguration of Solar Power Project at SSSUHE, Nallakadirenahalli Girls Campus

In a significant step towards promoting sustainability and environmental consciousness, a Solar Power Project was inaugurated at the Sri Sathya Sai University for Human Excellence, Girls' Campus, Nallakadirenahalli, sponsored by Legrand Group India under its CSR initiative.

The inaugural event was graced by dignitaries from Legrand India, Indoasian, and Numeric, including Ms. Abida Aneez, Vice President – CSR & Sustainability, Group Legrand India; Mr. Manudharan S, Senior Area Manager – Projects; Mr. Ganesh Swamy, Area Manager – Projects; Mr. Goutham M, Specification Manager; Mr. Guru Siddaiah, Branch Manager, Bangalore; Ms. Chandana R, Bangalore Sales; and Mr. Rajkumar Santharam, Branch Manager, Legrand Sales.

Representing the University, Smt. Minakshi Biswal, Director, Sri Sathya Sai University for Human Excellence, Nallakadirenahalli Campus, expressed heartfelt gratitude to Legrand for their noble partnership in advancing the University's commitment to green energy and sustainability.

We are deeply grateful to Dr. K. S. Rao, Executive Director at AAFM India and a long-standing patron of the E1E1 Foundation, for his magnanimous gesture of dedicating the entire proceeds of his book, The Retirement Planning Manifesto, to the Each One Educate One Foundation. Through this act of generosity, Dr. Rao has extended his lifelong commitment to financial empowerment into the realm of social transformation - supporting the cause of free, quality, and holistic education for rural underprivileged children.

A distinguished leader with over three decades of experience in the mutual fund industry, Dr. Rao is an alumnus of IIM Calcutta and Harvard Business School, and a certified executive coach. Over the years, he has been a passionate advocate for financial literacy, reaching millions across India through his nationally acclaimed investor education initiatives. His pioneering programs - Nivesh Maha Kumbh, Bharat Nivesh Yatra, For HER, Faujii Nivesh, My First Finance Lessons, and My First Pay Cheque, have significantly shaped the financial awareness landscape of the nation. A prolific thought leader, Dr. Rao has authored over 150

At the book launch, Mr. Sunil Narang, Trustee of the Each One Educate One Foundation, took the opportunity to introduce the Foundation's mission and initiatives to the audience. Dr. K. S. Rao's gesture reflects a beautiful convergence of his professional vision and personal values, a testament to his belief that true wealth is measured by the opportunities we create for others.
